

Environmental Performance

A Complete Picture of Environmental Load

At each and every stage of the product lifecycle, from development through design to use and disposal, Hino Motors seeks to identify the impact of its business activities on the environment. Hino Motors is making every effort to reduce environmental load while working to clarify the processes where it is particularly evident.

■ Hino Motors' Business Activities and Their Environmental Impact in Fiscal 2013

Note: The information provided represents aggregate data for the Company's Hino, Hamura, and Nitta plants.

Please click here for more information on product lifecycles.